HAKATA LIGHTING UP 2016

'Hakata lighting up 2016' is the lighting festival for lighting up traditional temples in the Hakata area in Japan.

This year is the 11th festival and organised by the city of Hakata.

The sponsors are given the responsibility for lighting up each temple, this is done as a group or working alone.

KKDC Japan are pleased to be a sponsor and will be installing linear LED to light up the temple of 'Kai Gen Gi'.

There are two rooms in the temple.

The first is expressing judgment day after death, the main god judges the dead peoples life and sends them to heaven or hell.

The second room is expressing life in heaven.
